Director's Note

Who is your hero? Someone who has shown great courage? Someone you know personally or have only heard or read about? I have many heroes. Daily I am surrounded by them. Countless children are my heroes as they bring bravery, trust and restoration back into their lives following very difficult situations. I invite you to join us as we honor several local heroes and celebrate hope and healing. Together we can all play a part in being a hero as we take this opportunity to change a child's life.

Our Special Guests

We will be honoring special, local heroes in addition to Kevin Mulcahy, who will share his experience both as a victim and a long-time prosecutor of child exploitation cases and the lessons he learned. You will be inspired by each of our heroes being honored this evening.
